OUR PLAYGROUND

In our world, the impulse to play, climb and explore does not end with childhood.

Our obsession with play-based learning has its roots in the mountains and is born out of a love for adventure.

We are climbers, skiers, boaters, mountain bikers and hikers, who explore the natural world with our families and friends. True to these roots, our team of talented designers and fabricators use this intimacy with the outdoors to create nature-inspired play sculptures that are authentic down to the smallest detail.

ID Sculpture is the industry leader in meeting the developmental needs of children through climbing activities. We do this by combining carefully designed physical challenges with imaginative play and a commitment to our core principals:

WE BELIEVE

- Kids thrive when they feel an authentic sense of adventure and can safely explore their limits
- Nothing fosters learning like imagination
- Every project is local and should reflect the spirit of its community
- Universal design should be a part of all playgrounds
- Playgrounds should appeal to adults as much as children
- Collaboration is the cornerstone of good design
- As stewards of the environment, we have a responsibility to minimize our impacts and build the most durable products possible

Hand Crafted Accuracy

ID Sculpture combines old world sculptural techniques with modern digital technology. This gives us the power to realize virtually any theme or form. The marriage of digital fabrication and handcraft allows us to create products that are unique to your needs while maintaining accurate detail at all scales.

Throughout the creative process, we use tried and true technology to make sure we're creating structures and designs that match your expectations. We use laser scanning, Haptic modeling and 3D visualization to develop our concepts three-dimensionally. Once a sculpture is approved, we use CNC machines to exactly replicate the approved design. Finally, our talented team of artists hand sculpt and finish the surface.

This method allows us to work quickly and accurately at a variety of scales while maintaining complete creative control.
