Health + Fitness

Ping pong (or table tennis) is both a brain game and incredibly physical. Featuring a fast-paced mix of aerobics, strategy and hand-eye coordination, ping pong combines both physical and mental exercise to achieve the ultimate in health and fitness.

Location: NORANDA SPORTING COMPLEX, WA, 1X ICON

To dive a little deeper, outdoor ping pong delivers in leaps and bounds:

1.

Being a part of a social community that is not defined by age, gender or class improves your mental health and wellbeing.

2.

For young people, at the critical growth stage in their motor learning and development, ping pong helps develop neuromuscular skill, conditioned reflexes and prolonged concentration.

3.

Anticipating your opponent's shot engages the prefrontal cortex - a part of the brain used for strategic planning and decision making.

4.

Increased evidence supports a link between playing ping pong and the prevention or reduction of dementia and Alzheimer's disease.

5.

The aerobic exercise of ping pong stimulates the hippocampus - the part of your brain responsible for forming and retaining long-term facts and information.

6.

Increasing the flow of blood to your brain increases your motor skills and cognitive awareness.

7.

Playing ping pong develops mental acuity, alertness, concentration and tactical strategy.

8.

Rallies and repetitive practice improves your hand-eye coordination, balance and reflexes.

9.

The low-impact but physical nature of ping pong improves leg, arm and core strength without the high-risk of injuries.

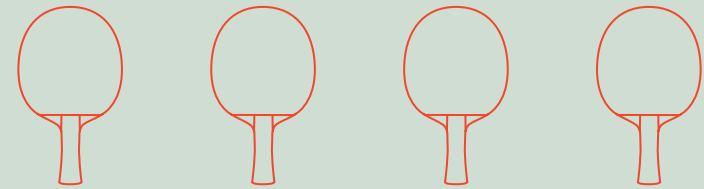

10.

The bursts of exertion and recovery in ping pong burns plenty of calories.

DIY Artwork is applied or coordinated by the customer onsite after delivery, through local artists, inhouse designers or sign shops.

All relevant information, guidelines and checklists for DIY Artwork preparation and application are included in the DIY Artwork Guidelines - available on request.

In their words

“I can’t think of a day I haven’t seen someone using them.”

“The first table went so well that the university... made plans to acquire a further two soon after.”

- Emma Jakobi, Project Manager, Curtin University

ICON

“Since we installed our 2 POPP tables in Pioneer Park last year they have seen constant use. Friends will often meet for lunch in the park and then adjourn for a couple of games of ping pong before heading back to their jobs. Other users include a steady stream of students on their way home from school and pet owners out walking their dogs. Community members tend to congregate where they feel safe and where there is laughter, and in both cases the ping pong tables cater for that!”

“It ticks a lot of boxes – people of all ages can play, it’s fun, and it’s a great way for people to get outside, interact and be active together... and it’s free, so anyone can play.”

Site planning

Prior to delivery of your ICON table, we recommend considering the following for your site:

ICON

POPP . WORLD

1. Table Dimensions and Playing Areas

There are two surfaces that must be considered when placing an ICON table - the Playing Area Surface and the Anchoring Area Surface. The Playing Area Surface is the playing space surrounding the table. The Anchoring Area Surface is the area directly in contact with each table's Secure Anchoring Footings - which allows the table to be securely anchored.

2. Playing Area Surfaces

Playing Area Surfaces can be new or existing. They are often (but not limited to):

- Concrete
- Asphalt
- Crushed granite
- Crushed limestone
- Compacted material
- Paving
- Soft-fall or recycled rubber surfaces
- Suitable sand, gravel, clay or dirt surfaces
- Suitable decking

POPP recommends that Playing Area Surfaces be flat, level and hard-formed and suitable for the specified table weight.

POPP does not recommend that tables be installed on significantly sloping, uneven or soft surfaces.

3. Anchoring Area Surfaces

POPP recommends that tables be anchored to the Anchoring Area using the Secure Anchoring Footings. Anchoring Area surfaces:

- Can be new or existing;
- Must be flat and level;
- Must be hard-formed; and
- Must be suitable for anchoring the table (as per the manufacturer's instructions and specification for the anchoring mechanism).

4. Site Access

POPP recommends considering access routes to the final table location. As a general guide, unobstructed pathways 6' wide are recommended for pallet trolley access.

For more information about table orientation, surroundings, site preparation and anchoring, refer to the General Information document or email info@popp.world to discuss your project with one of the POPP team.
